OUTLINES.

The annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers' Association began in Boston yesterday, and the address of President MacColl shows that the industry in both America and Europe is marvelously active; there has been a big increase in spindlage and the demand is such that every spindle at home and abroad is kept busy to supply the demand for cotton goods.——A freight train on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad in Kentucky on Tuesday had a fruitless race with a barn which was lifted up by a high wind and hurled across the track in time to smash the caboose.——First Assistant Postmaster General Hitchcock returned to Washington yesterday from a Southern trip; he denied that he was on a miesion for Roosevelt but said he talked enough politics to find out that Southern Republicans, with but few exceptions, are glued to the Roosevelt band wagon.——At Oil City, Pa., yesterday, because Thaddeus S. Ross was to have been married to another girl last night, Miss Isabel Stroup called him by telephone to a physician's office, shot him to death and then killed herself.——At Mellville, N. J., yesterday three young women while working in a glass factory were killed by the collapse of a smoke stack which crashed into a room where they were engaged.——Successful peace negotiations were concluded between Nicaragua and Salvador at Amapala yesterday.——A tug with six men foundered in rough water on Lake Huron on Tuesday.——The Jamestown Exposition will be formally opened tomorrow with a speech by President Roosevelt, who leaves Washington today on the yacht Mayflower; various State delegations left yesterday for Jamestown.——The trial of Mrs. Amisia De Massey who shot and killed Gustav Simon, proprietor of a shirtwaist factory, is on trial in New York and the district attorney's representative will make an effort to send the young woman to the electric chair.——The old city government at Memphis is holding on to the offices and the new government has been enjoined from taking office till the case comes up tomorrow.——New York markets: Money on call, easy, 2 to 21-2 per cent., ruling rate 2, closing bid 2, offered at 2 1-4; spot cotton, 10 points higher, closing steady at 11.25; flour, firm but quiet; wheat, firm, No. 2 red, 84 7-8 elevator; corn, firm, No. 2, 58 elevator; oats, steady, mixed, 47 1-2; turpentine, steady; rosin, firm.

Speaking of hard luck, consider the Jamestown man who inherited $250,000 two months ago and died on the eve of the opening of the Exposition.

Hon. Tom Watson is still getting advertising for striking a Pullman car porter. Here goes a bet that the porter struck him first—for a tip.

It is said that Hearst will not speak to Bryan. Hearst shouldn't let a little thing like his ambition to be President come in between him and the Nebraska possibility. What are mere aspirations between friends, anyway

By going over the books the Sub-Treasury officials at Chicago are now attempting to show Uncle Sam that it was a false alarm about that shortage of $173,000 in the Sub-Treasury. It is in the book-keeping where Uncle Sam generally looses out.

We have long since been anxious for the discovery of the North and South Poles. We are, however, perfectly willing for Commander Peary and Walter Wellman to go after one, while that Brazilian millionaire can try his hand on the other.

When a young fellow doesn't do his courting in a strenuous sort of way the girls have heretofore called him "soft." If he goes on acting like a tenderfoot hereafter he will simply run the risk of being classed as a mollycoddle.

With recollections of the Booker Washington dining and the ramming of Dr. Crum down the throat of Charleston, with the Senate several times gagging at the idea of confirmation, the Southern Democrat who wants to swallow Roosevelt surely has his "stummick" with him.

The Washington Post observes: "A short time ago a British officer claimed that married soldiers were the bravest, but the old veteran who proposed to Carry Nation seems to have proved that the widowers are not so weak-kneed, either." That looks like a case of rashness, instead of bravery, on the part of the widower.

The Salisbury Evening Post regrets that Senator Simmons is going to resign the Democratic State chairmanship, and says: "There is nowhere in North Carolina, perhaps, not in the whole South quite as able a political manager as Senator Simmons." Humph! Let him get out. He will then be free to accept the National chairmanship and give them a good imitation of a man determined to have the house keeping at the White House done by a Democratic family.

WAREHOUSE SYSTEM

COMING TO WILMINGTON

(Special Star Correspondence.

Raleigh, N. C., April 24.—President C. C. Moore, of the North Carolina Division, Southern Cotton Association, is in the city, after a tour of some of the most important cotton counties of the State in the interest of the proposed bonded cotton warehouses and says such warehouses are assured already for eleven counies, with an aggregate of $900,000 capital. He intends to spend a few days at his home in Charlotte now and then go to Wilmington and Norfolk to organize similar companies for caring for the cotton snipped from North Carolina points to these ports. He expects to be in Wilmington in about a week, and in Norfolk in ten days at the outside. He says such a corporation is essential for the success of the North Carolina cotton interests, for the reason that vast quantities of cotton are shipped here from Norh Carolina direct from the planters for sale on commission. He says he anticipated no difficulty in forming the companies in either city.

The Waccamaw Land and Lumber Company, of Wilmington and Southport, files a certificate of dissolution by mutual consent. The company is succeeded by the Waccamaw Lumber Company, chartered under the laws of Michigan, where the largest stockholders reside. In fact, the new company has had charge of the large plant at Wilmington and the timber holdings in that vicinity since the first of January. The dissolution here is a mere matter of form to give place to the larger company, new capital having recently been interested in the enterprise.

Travelling Passenger Agent C. H. Gattis received a telegram today stating that the Seaboard people had decided to put the new schedule and rain into effect on the Carolina Central between Wilmington and Charlotte on the fifh of May, next Sunday week. It was originally announced that these changes would go into effect on April 28th.

This morning Governor Glenn and State Insurance Commissioner J. R. Young went to Goldsboro, where they will present to the Albemarle presbytery the matter of the purchase of Peace Insitute here, so as to continue the institution as a church college. The Presbytery will be asked for subscriptions toward the purchase price which is $50,000.

Assistant Commissioner of Insurance W. A. Scott has returned from New Bern, where he succeeded in having Andrew Connor bound over for the burning of the tug Virginia there some months ago. Mr. Scott has gone to Charlotte to resume work of looking ino the barn-burning situation in Mecklenburg county, no less than four barns having been burned within the past few weeks, believed to have been incendiary. The last was on Monday night of this week.

Superintendent John E. Ray, of the State School for the Blind, went to Kenly today to act as interpreter at the marriage of a coupe, both of whom are deaf mutes. The groom is Mr. E. A. Baldree, a former pupil of Mr. Ray's. His home is at Winterville.

Mrs. Edward E. Sheib has been elected lady principal of St. Mary's School. She is a Louisiana lady, and the widow of the late Edward E. Sheib, of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and later of the chair of Philosophy in Tulane University.

Pastor J. C. Massee and Sunday School Superintendent N. B. Broughton, of Tabernacle Baptist Church, this city, left today for a trip abroad, a special objective point being the World's Sunday School Convention, which meets in annual session May 20 to 23 in Rome. They will spend two months abroad. Tabernacle Church has a phenomenal growth, there being 990 members and 1,313 in the Sunday School.

On recommendation of Inspector General Stringfield an order has been issued from the Adjutant General's office here for the disbanding of Company G, First Regiment North Carolina National Guard, at Shelby, for failure to come up to inspection requirements. In fact, that company did not report for inspection at all. It is understood that a new company is being organized at Shelby and will apply very soon to be mustered in. It is expected that orders will be issued soon for four other companies to be disbanded for failure to come up to the standard at annual inspection.

STATE VS. PHONOGRAPH

Residents in Neighborhood of The Odeon Haled Proprietor to Court. Charge of Nuisance Not Sustained for Defendant.

Residents and business people along lower Market street, between Front and Second, were in overwhelming majority among the attendants upon the session of the police court yesterday. It all came about over a complaint lodged with the Mayor by various and sundry persons that "by the constant and persistent use of a phonograph and outside 'barker,' at the most unseasonable hours of the night," at the Odeon moving picture theatre in their immediate vicinity, the noises had become a nuisance, and was an annoyance to the peace and quiet of their homes, and the health of their families and those living with them. The complaint originally came in the nature of a petition to the Mayor to have the phonograph and "barker" suppressed, but the chief executive very properly placed the matter in the shape of a warrant for Mr. A. F. Dahmer, the proprietor of the Odeon, thus bringing on a judicial investigation, at which both sides could be heard. The warrant was signed by Mr. D. Rountree, proprietor of the Rountree House, just across the street from the theatre.

The occasion of the crowd at court yesterday was the trial of the case against Mr. Dahmer, who appeared with his counsel, Herbert McClammy, Esq., while F. W. Bonitz, Esq., represented the prosecutors. Among the witnesses for the State were Messrs. Rountree, H. Cronenberg, J. H. W. Bonitz, A. M. Hall, R. W. Simpson, W. A. Caldwell, T. S. McManus, and others. For the defence there were as many witnesses, Messrs. Henderson Cole, B. M. Lehue, C. W. Layton, and others, also residents of lower Market street, who testified that they were not annoyed by the performances in front of The Odeon. After hearing all the facts in the case pro and con, the Mayor found Mr. Dahmer not guilty, and he was discharged. Mr. Bonitz stated that an injunction would be applied for to abate the alleged nuisance, but no such drastic measures will likely be necessary, as Mr. Dahmer said that if the complainants had made known their troubles to him instead of to the police in the first instance, he would cheerfully have refrained from making any more than the necessary 'spieling' to attract the way worn traveller to some little amusement. He was exceedingly gracious in this respect, winning the admiration of those not directly interested in the case.

AN AFTERNOON WEDDING

A quiet but very pretty and impressive home wedding ceremony was celebrated yesterday afternoon at half after 5 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Gilchrist, No. 708 Market street, this city, when Mr. John Hunter Wood led to the altar Miss Lilly Gilchrist, both prominent young people in the social life of Wilmington, and they were made man and wife in a pretty service spoken by the Rev. Dr. Alexander Sprunt, of Charleston, S. C., an uncle of the groom, assisted by the Rev. J. M. Wells, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, this city. The parlors, drawing room and halls of the home were most tastefully decorated with Southern smilax, palms, ferns, cut flowers and the like, the prevailing colors having been green and white. The scene is described as a most beautiful one indeed. Kneisel's Academy of Music Orchestra rendered the music, both for the wedding and for an informal reception that followed.

The bride was attended as maid-of-honor by her sister, Miss Eleanor Gilchrist, while the groom's best man was Mr. Raymond Humphries. There were no other attendants, it having been preferred by the young people that the ceremony be as quiet as possible. Only relatives and a few very intimate friends were present. The bride entered the room with her father immediately following the maid of honor who came first. The groom and his best man entered from the side and was joined by the bride at the altar where the words were impressively spoken that joined them in the holy estate of matrimony, the orchestra playing softly as the service proceeded. The pretty ring service was used and the bride was given away by her father.

Immediately after the ceremony the reception followed, at which Mr. and Mrs. Wood received the happiest felicitations of their friends. At 6:35 o'clock they left on the evening northbound train for a bridal tour of two weeks to Canada, returning from which they will be at home in this city.

The bride is a young woman of charming personality and is very popular in Wilmington socially. The groom is a son of the late Dr. Thos. F. Wood, so well known in the Cape Fear section, and Mrs. Mary S. Wood, of this city. He is cashier in the large cotton exporting house of his uncles who compose the firm of

FIREMEN WED SISTERS

Of interest to a great many friends of the young people to the marriage vows because of their popularity and because of the novelty of the wedding ceremony, was the marriage last evening at 8:30 o'clock of Miss Nellie J. Bounds to Mr. Riley D. Smith and Miss Annie L. Bounds to Mr. Alexander C. Peterson, all of this city. The ceremony was a double wedding at the home of the parents of the brides, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Bounds, No. 908 North Fifth street, and Rev. J. A. McKaughan, pastor of Brooklyn Baptist Church, was the officiating minister. The grooms are both members of the Wilmington Fire Department at station No. 3, and both couples will reside at No. 516 Bladen street.

The parlors of the home yesterday evening were very attractively decorated for the occasion and the scene of the double ceremony was a very pretty one indeed. The attendants were Mr. Sidney J. Bounds and Miss Mamie Mason and Mr. Otto Genaust and Miss Mamie Bounds. The wedding marches were very prettily rendered by Mr. A. P. Lupo, the couples entering in perfect order and assembling at the improvised altar at an advantageous position in the room where the solemn words were spoken that made the couples one and at the same time man and wife, each to the other. The brides were becomingly gowned alike in white crepe de chine and carried bouquets of carnations. The bridesmaids were attired in white organdie and carried lovely bouquets of roses. Fellow members of the Fire Department at station No. 3 attended the wedding in a body, the emergencies of their positions requiring the presence of the apparatus at the home, lending quite a spectacular effect to the pretty affair, which was followed by an elegant reception at which Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Peterson received the happiest congratulations of the many friends assembled. They are all popular, Mr. Peterson being a son of Mr. G. A. Peterson, and Mr. Smith, a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith, all of Wilmington.

—United States Steamboat Inspectors Rice and Borden arrived yesterday from Charleston and will today inspect the steamer Wilmington, which is just off the ways after overhauling and repainting for the Summer excursion travel.

RAILWAY STOCKHOLDERS

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Consolidated Railways, Light and Power Company was held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the office of Hugh MacRae & Co., on North Front street. Mr. Junius Davis presided at the meeting and the proceedings were kept by Mr. H. Woollcott, the secretary of the company. Those present at the meeting, representing a large mapority of the stock were Messrs. Hugh MacRae, M. F. H. Gouveneur, Junius Davis, B. G. Worth, J. V. Grainger, J. G. L. Gieschen, Jurgen Haar, M. J. Heyer, Oscar Pearsall, George R. French, E. S. Martin and A. B. Skelding. After a general discussion of the affairs of the corporation, which were shown to be in very satisfactory condition, the following Board of Directors was elected for the ensuing fiscal year.

Messrs. Hugh MacRae, M. F. H. Gouverneur, Junius Davis, C. W. Worth, B. G. Worth, J. V. Grainger, G. H. Smith, J. G. L. Gieschen, Jurgen Haar, Edouard Ahrens, M. J. Heyer, Oscar Pearsall, James H. Chadbourn, George R. French and W. W. Randolph.

At the meeting of the directors, which followed immediately, all the old officers were re-elected. The officers are:

President—Hugh MacRae.
Vice President—M. F. H. Gouverneur.
Treasurer—R. J. Jones.
Secretary—H. Woollcott.
General Manager—A. B. Skelding.

AN INTERESTING DAY

MANY INTERESTING REPORTS

The second day's sessions of the fifth annual convention of the North Carolina State Federation of Women's Clubs in this city yesterday were marked by an increased attendance and growing enthusiasm in the work. The day was a lovely one, so typical of this climate in Spring, and the routine proceedings of the day were relieved with a delightful trolley party to the beach at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and a most delightful musicale last evening in the Wilmington City Library, an institution founded and fostered by the North Carolina Sorosis, the hostesses of the convention on this occasion. Tomorrow the sessions will close with the completion of the programme mapped out for this meeting and the annual election of officers. The crowning feature of the entire sessions will be a large reception from 9 to 11 o'clock tonight in the Masonic Temple ball room, given in compliment to the visitors by the North Carolina Sorosis. For this function invitations have been mailed and several hundred guests are expected.

The morning session yesterday was called to order at 10 o'clock by Mrs. Eugene Reilly, the vice-president. The report of the Credential Committee, through Mrs. Andrew J. Howell, Jr., of Wilmington, showed the following towns and cities of the State represented: Charlotte, Concord, Goldsboro, Greensboro, Greenville, Henderson, Kernersville, Lenoir, Raleigh, Southern Pines, Winston-Salem, Wilmington, Kinston and Newbern.

The first hour of the session was given to hearing reports of various committees on rules and regulations, transportation and badges. The chairmen of these committees were: Mrs. R. R. Cotton, Greenville, rules and regulations; Mrs. H. C. Prince, transportation; Mrs. E. M. Gregg, badges.

The officers of the Federation next made reports of progress during the year. The corresponding secretary, Miss Watkins, of Henderson, reported that the following clubs have applied for admission into the Federation:

The Club of Twelve, Lexington.
The Current Literature Club, Asheville.
The Civics Club, Southern Pines.
The Wise and Otherwise Club, Lenoir.
The Otherdom Club, Greensboro.
The VanDyke Club, Warrenton.

The three-minute reports of club presidents showed remarkable development along club lines during the past year.

Mrs. W. G. Rogers, reporting for the Charlotte club, gave an interesting story of work along literature, art, music, child study and domestic science.

The Goldsboro Woman's Club, reported by Mrs. Gertrude Weill, showed very encouraging results in the work of six departments, the Library, Domestic Science and Mental Culture departments having made especial progress.

The twelfth year's work of the North Carolina Sorosis of Wilmington, was reported by Mrs. R. W. Hicks, and showed that this club is of continued benefit both to club members and to the community. This is a departmental club, and was the first club in the State to affiliate with the General Federation. The work in Library Extension and Domestic Science is particularly to be commended.

The report of the Woman's Club, of Raleigh, was read by Mrs. C. L. Stevens, and was inspiring in its scope and in results accomplished. This club, while young, is strong in numbers and through its six departments touches many phases of life. It has purchased a club house and will soon have very desirable headquarters.

The good work of the Kinston Woman's Club was related by Mrs. Alice Field. The original object of this club was benevolence and good work, but it has added two other departments and is doing splendid work.

Mrs. J. T. Hollister gave an interesting account of the newly organized Woman's Club, of Newbern, which is a club of four departments and has proved a decided success.

The smaller clubs were well represented and while they generally stand for some one line of work, the reports show a constant widening of interests and diversity of pursuits.

The Civic Club, of Southern Pines, deserves special mention for the efforts the members are making toward the inculcation of the true civic spirit in the boys and girls as well as the older people of their community. The establishment of "Cleaning Day" for the town deserves to be imitated.

Following the reports of individual clubs, the work of the Federation committees was taken up.

Mrs. Sol Weil, of Goldsboro, chairman of the Library Extension Department, read a most interesting report of the efforts being made by the clubs

IMMIGRATION MOVEMENT SOUTH.

The Savannah News is not altogether discouraged but is evidently disappointed in the result of the errand of Governor-Elect Hoke Smith and others to Europe in behalf of making Savannah an immigration port. Those accompanying Mr. Smith in Europe are President Williamson, of the Savannah Chamber of Commerce, and the Hon. Havie Jordan, of Atlanta, president of the Southern Cotton Association. Our esteemed Savannah contemporary says they "do not appear to have been entirely successful in their efforts to get the Lloyds to put on a line of immigrant steamers between Bremen and Savannah." The News then goes on to say:

"It is probable that they have not exhausted their efforts in that direction, and that after they have seen the steamship people again they will have a different story to tell. In the meantime they have gone to Austria for the purpose of seeing if they cannot arouse interest in immigration from that country to the Southern States.

"Immigrants are coming to this country by way of New York in greater numbers than ever before. There are at the present time thirty steamers on the ocean bound for New York carrying more than 40,000 immigrants. No doubt the most of these immigrants have fixed upon the States in which they will settle, and will take their departure for their respective destinations soon after their arrival at Ellis' Island.

"The South has tried the plan of meeting immigrants at Ellis Island and presenting to them reasons why they should seek homes in the South, but it wasn't productive of satisfactory results. It is practically certain that the South will not get any considerable number of immigrants except by creating a sentiment in favor of the South in the sections of Europe from which immigrants come. Therefore, there is need of agents who will work for the South, and of steamship lines that will bring the immigrants to Southern ports. It is sincerely to be hoped that Mr. Williamson and others who are working with him will put forth every effort to advertise the South in their travels through Europe, and will pick out the localities to which it would be advisable to send agents. And Mr. Williamson shouldn't think of turning his steps homeward until he has secured from Lloyds a promise to put on a line of immigrant-carrying ships from European ports to Savannah. If a stream of immigration is once turned in this direction there will be no trouble in getting all the immigrants that are wanted."

The more we see of the efforts to make immigration stations of different or numerous Southern cities, the more we realize that we are wasting our efforts. We have about made up our mind that if the South is to have an immigration movement to amount to anything it must be in a co-operative movement among the States. We must either agree on one immigration port on the Atlantic and another on the Gulf, or have no real and effective immigration movement. We fear that we are dissipating our efforts in trying to have too many immigrant stations. That we need the immigrants all are agreed. If we are to get them it seems that there must be some united action between the States. We need a good class of immigrants in North Carolina, and we have no doubt the need of them is felt for the same reasons that the News gives for Savannah. Says the News:

"And there is no doubt that a great many are wanted. The other day we published an interview with a manufacturer in this city in which he said that he would establish a knitting mill here and bring a cotton factory from another city if he could be assured of a sufficient labor supply. It is the lack of labor that is keeping back industrial development in this State. In fact, it is keeping it back in all of the Southern States. It is apparent, therefore, that in Savannah at least a great deal of dependence is being placed on Mr. Williamson's mission."

Suppose we all unite on Wilmington as the Atlantic immigration station.

EITHER ROOSEVELT OR A RETROACTIONARY.

The Republican demand for President Roosevelt for a third term is growing, and in spite of the President's frequent assertions that he will not be a candidate for the nomination, the demand for him will not down. The President, however, keeps on saying that he would not accept a third term, and all he asks is for the Republican National convention to nominate a Presidential candidate who will carry out the Roosevelt policies. In other words, the Roosevelt advocates can compromise by allowing the President to select the candidate.

This contingency may arise however. The pressure on the President may be so strong that he will retract his declaration not to run and decide that he cannot resist the popular appeal. He may be forced to this decision if the view of it taken by the Washington Post is inevitable—that he will have to be the cadidate or see a retroactionary candidate named by the Republican National convention. The retroactionaries are those opposed to the Presidentts policies and if a retroactionary is named and elected up goes the Roosevelt policies. The fear is, however, that if a retroactionary is named the Democrats will elect the President, and all of it is being urged upon the President as the strongest reason why he should forego his determination to be the candidate again. The Post says:

"The action of so many State Legislatures in expressing a preference for Mr. Roosevelt as the Republican candidate for President in 1908 is conclusive of the fact that Mr. Roosevelt can have the nomination if he will accept it, if public opinion fourteen months hence shall be what it is now. Of that there is very little room for doubt. Mr. Bryan has modified his indorsement of the President and seems to think that Mr. Roosevelt is no great shakes of a Democrat after all, and there are folk who interpret that to mean that Mr. Bryan thinks it more than likely that Mr. Roosevelt is the man he will have to beat next year.

"It will be observed that Mr. Roosevelt's first choice is hardly considered by the Republican Legislatures that swear by the President. That is somewhat significant in view of the President's reiterated declarations to the effect that he is not to be considered. Mr. Roosevelt is convinced that there is a plutocratic conspiracy to eradicate Rooseveltism from our governmental policies, to extirpate it from American politics. It is given out from the White House that this cabal has raised $5,000,000 as a corruption fund to secure the adoption of a mollycoddle platform and accomplish the nomination of a reactionary candidate.

"The President has no doubt that such a conspiracy exists and that plutocracy is resolved to defeat all his plans for the future. He has appealed to the country to defeat the 'conspiracy,' and the country appears nothing loath if Roosevelt shall continue captain; but we discover little enthusiasm for any lesser progressive. We do hear some remarks that sound like a sneer about Martin Van Buren, and that Mr. John Alden must speak for himself, and not for Gen. Miles Standish.

"In other words, the Republican party is willing to allow Theodore Roosevelt to do whatsoever he pleases unless he should undertake to name the Caesar as did the Roman Emperors when their reigns approached conclusion. And right here is the interesting phase of the case. Does Mr. Roosevelt's aversion to another term exceed his detestation of reaction?

"Settle that question and we have this third-term talk disposed of. Again, if Mr. Roosevelt's followers shall conclude that he will take the nomination, may they not fetch things about so that this proposition shall present itself to Presidential mind: Roosevelt or a 'reactionary.'

"The President is a fighter, but it is possible that he will not be allowed to fight by proxy next year."

It is worth considerable to any citizen of Wilmington to know how to be cured of painful, annoying and itching piles. Know then that Doan's Ointment is a positive remedy for all itchiness of the skin, for piles, eczema, etc. One application relieves and soothes. Read this testimony of its merit:

J. S. King, clerk on Market street, residing at 815 Orange street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I used Doan's Ointment and found it to be a great remedy for itching hemorrhoids. It acted like a charm in my case. I tried all kinds of remedies, but until I used Doan's Ointment I could get nothing to give me positive relief. It is a splendid preparation and you are welcome to use my name as one who says so. I obtained it at R. R. Bellamy's drug store."

Through blood poisoning caused by a spider bite, John Washington of Bosqueville, Tex., would have lost his leg, which became a mass of running sores, had he not been persuaded to try Bucklen's Arnica Salve. He writes: "The first application relieved, and four boxes healed all the sores." Heals every sore. 25c at

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Canthrarides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

ANOTHER BLOCK TO IMMIGRATION

Mr. Alan Gray, of Evansville, Ind., who owns large tracts of farming lands in Mississippi, has run foul of the new immigration law which goes into effect on July 1st. He had conceived an original idea of securing immigrants on a large scale. He planned to place Italian laborers on his Mississippi lands to raise cotton, leasing them before they came to this country such area as they wish, they paying thier own passage, but he agreeing under the terms of the lease to furnish them not only the land but the means of the cultivating it and to receive in return half of the product. Then, as he had been reading, probably, of the troubles of some Southern mill men with the immigration laws, it occurred to him that he had better get an opinion from the Immigration Bureau. Consequently, he laid the details of the plan before it. The New York Journal of Commerce says that the bureau inclines to the opinion that this does not constitute a violation of the new law, but is so far uncertain that it has decided to secure an opinion from the law officers of the government before proceeding. There is a strong impression in some quarters that the decision will be adverse to this leasing plan; and that the whole policy of colonizing in the South, which has been highly beneficial by bringing good immigrants, bringing a great amount of land under cultivation, supplying agricultural labor that is much needed in the South, and particularly laying the foundation of a system of distributing immigrants which will keep them from getting congested in the Eastern cities, will be held illegal. In that event, it is said ,there will be a determined effort at the next session of Congress to have the law changed.

For this and other reasons, the present and hard-to-understand immigration law should be changed. The only thing about it that admits of no dispute is that it was designed to cripple the manufacturing and agricultural interests of the South by throwing every difficulty possible in the way of securing immigration and to make it a more or less dangerous proceeding to bring immigrants to the South under any conditions. If the matter of amending the immigration bill is brought up at the next session of Congress, it is to be hoped that the Southern Congressmen will not go to sleep while Lodge is manipulating it.

DID A WHALE SWALLOW JONAH?

Professor Haupt Makes Argument to Substantiate Biblical Truth.

(New York Sun.)

Philadelphia, April 20.—That the Biblical account of Jonah and the whale is not imaginary was the point of an address delivered by Prof. Paul Haupt, of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, before the American Philosophical Society today. The title of his address was "On Jonah's Whale."

Prof. Haupt began by saying that in the Gospel of Matthew Jesus did not make use of the story in such a way as to become authority for the literal truth of Jonah's story. He declared that, despite the contention that the whale's gullet was too small to admit the passage of a body of anything like the dimensions of a man, there existed, nevertheless the Mediterranean sperm whale, with an orifice large enough to swallow animals larger than man.

Prof. Haupt found in the record of the King of Assyria 1100 B. C., that a "blower with wing teeth" was killed at Alexandretta. The description answered perfectly to the sperm whale, and it undoubtedly had appeared in the Mediterranean.

—Raleigh News and Observer, April 23: Deputy Sheriff J. A. Toler, of Wayne county, and Policeman B. M. Denmark, of Goldsboro, brought to the penitentiary yesterday two prisoners tried and sentenced in the Wayne county Superior Court last week. Both are negroes, one being a man and the other a woman. The man is Furney Smith and his term is 30 years, this being for the murder of an old colored woman by the name of Sarah Cooper. The woman convict is Annie Jones and her term is 18 months for larceny. The murder of which Furney Smith was convicted was committed one night in February. He ran away from the State immediately and was later brought back. Last week he made a confession of the crime and incriminated three other negroes —a woman and two men—as his accomplices. The old woman, Sarah Cooper, was 60 years of age or more and was drawing a Federal pension. It was known by these negroes that she had some money and they went to her home choked her to death and robbed her of $25 or $30. The woman accomplice in the matter is said to have dressed in men's clothes and, moreover, that she was an occupant of the same house. Since Smith's arrest three of his accomplices have become fugitives from justice.

"Pneumonia's Deadly Work had so seriously affected my right lung," writes Mrs. Fannie Connor, of Rural Route 1, Georgetown, Tenn., "that I coughed continuously night and day and the neighbors' prediction—consumption—seemed inevitable, until my husband brought home a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery which in my case proved to be the only REAL cough cure and restorer of weak, sore lungs." When all other remedies utterly fail, you may still win in the battle against lung and throat troubles with New Discovery, the REAL cure. Guaranteed by R. R. His departure will be regretted by many friends in this city.

MAN WITH THE WOLVES.

Mr. Eli Smith, the noted Alaskan traveller, is causing great interest in the city, his pack of wolf-dogs being the centre of attraction. Of course, he is an interesting person to talk with, afer the experiences he has had in the gold fields of the great frozen North, and every one wants to talk with him.

He will lecture at the Academy tonight, and will supplement the lecture with pretty stereopicon views. He carries many high recommendations from the notable men of Washington, including one from the President. The following is a letter from the teachers of Lincoln School at Louisiana, Mo., where he lectured to the nine hundred children of the school last year.

"To whom it may concern:

"This is to certify that we, the teachers of Lincoln School, highly recommend the Alaskan exhibits held during the street fair in this city. We take pleasure in stating that the exhibits were very ineresting to teachers as well as to pupils. We wish to state that we were very courteously received by Mr. Eli A. Smith, who was very painstaking in his efforts to explain everything to us."

"We cheerfully recommend the exhibits to every one wishing a more thorough knowledge of Alaskan customs."

Mr. Smith has obtained a permit from the Chief of Police and will drive his dogs over the principal streets of the city today, and every one should avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing to what a degree man can overcome and master one of the fiercest and most bloodthirsty members of the animal kingdom.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Entertain.

On Tuesday evening of this week Mr. and Mrs. Henry Daniel delightfully entertained a few friends at their home, No. 10 Church street, in honor of Miss Nellie Beardsley, of Manson, N. C., who left yesterday to visit in Laurinburg, and Miss Laura J. Stephens, of Chicago, Ill. A dainty repast consisting of ice cream, cake and fruit with other delicacies was served in the dining room, which was tastefully decorated, red and white being the prevailing colors. The evening passed all too quickly for those assembled indulging in various games and diversions. The guests departed with pleasant recollections of the delightful affair.

Will Admitted to Probate.

The last will and testament of the late T. H. Thompson was admitted to probate in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court. Mr. Thompson left an estate valued at something over $25,000, and Mrs. Thompson is named as the executrix. The will was made in 1895 and the tender solicitation expressed therein for his wife, children and sisters is beautiful. These are all well provided for, the amount of insurance being $15,000 with other investments, not including real estate.

Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son, and has a very bright future in prospect in the business world. There are many who will extend their best wishes to both the bride and groom who number their friends by the score.

Among the out-of-town guests in Wilmington for the marriage were Miss Maude Moore, of Indiana; John Gilchrist McCormick, Esq., of Lumberton, and Mr. Thos. F. Wood, of Chapel Hill.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Until further notice the following cars will not run beyond Wrightsville Sound except on Sundays: Ten, 11:30 and 1:30 o'clock. This is on account of the repairs and relaying of the track on the trestle. The work will be completed as early as possible.

—District Deputy J. R. Farrell, of Raleigh, will arrive this evening, and tonight will make an official visitation to Wilmington Lodge of Elks. An informal social session will be given in honor of the district deputy and all members are requested to be present.

—The New Hanover Medical Society will meet tonight in the Mayor's office at the City Hall for the purpose of installing the officers recently elected. These are: Dr. Joseph Akerman, president; Dr. S. E. Koonce, vice-president, and Dr. C. T. Harper, secretary and treasurer.

—The Star is requested to state that those who have not accounted for tickets sent them for the benefit performance to be given Friday evening at Airlie are requested to acknowledge same either by check or returning tickets to Mr. Thos. H. Wright, business manager, before Friday noon.

—In the police court yesterday Bina Brockenton, colored, for disorderly conduct and vagrancy, was given 30 days on the farm in each count, and Rachel Roberts, colored, charged with vagrancy, was given 30 days for vagrancy. Several other cases of trifling import were disposed of with the defendant in each paying the cost.

—The City Clerk and Treasurer, after due notice to the delinquents, is having a number of warrants served on parties in arrears for license taxes. Fourteen of such cases were tried yesterday by the Mayor, the defendants being let off upon payment of all delinquencies. A case of this nature against the Cape Fear Club was continued until today, the president being out of the city.

—A delightful church festival was given last night near Mr. Owen Martindale's place, on the Federal Point road. Justice Bornemann chaperoned a party of ladies and gentlemen from Wilmington, and after the festival was over, the "judge" was invited to auction off the remainder of the articles on hand. The neat sum of something over $55 was realized as the proceeds of the affair which is for the benefit of the church organ fund.

Schooner May Be Lost.

Capt. C. D. Maffitt, Wilmington agent of the schooner Everett Webster, which cleared from this port March 29th for Philadelphia, with cargo of lumber from the Hammar Lumber Company, of Little River, S. C., has received a letter of inquiry from the owners to know of the whereabouts of the vessel. The schooner has not been heard from since she left Wilmington, and the owners are fearful that she has been lost with all hands on board. She has now been out nearly a month from this port to Philadelphia.

Revival at Bladen Street Church.

Last night there was another fine meeting in the series of services in progress at Bladen Street M. E. Church. At the conclusion of a very strong sermon by Rev. J. E. Underwood, who is assisting the pastor, Rev. A. J. Parker, there were fifteen or more requests for prayer. The meetings are held each night at 7:45 o'clock, the regular service being preceded by a song service of 30 minutes. The public is most cordially invited.

Will of Late Robert H. Beery.

The last will and testament of the late Robert H. Beery was admitted to probate at the office of the clerk of the Superior Court this week. Mrs. Beery is named as the executrix and the estate is valued at something like $2,500 in personal property and real estate at Silver Lake, two lots in Carolina Place, at 801 Princess street and at 108 North Eighth street. The will was made July 1st, 1890, having been witnessed by Wm. T. Daggett, J. F. Maunder and W. J. Penny.

Immanuel Church Meetings.

The series of services being conducted nightly at Immanuel Presbyterian Church, on South Front street, are attracting large congregations and great interest is being manifested. Last night the sermon was by Rev. Mr. Crowley, the pastor, and after church the session met and received nine persons into the fellowship of the congregation. The meetings continue throughout this and next week and the public is cordially invited.

Chamber of Commerce to Meet.

A special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock to receive the report of a committee recently appointed to draft suitable resolutions upon the death of the late Mr. J. C. Stevenson. The committee is composed of Messrs. H. C. McQueen and Walker Taylor.

to establish free public libraries in the various towns and to send traveling libraries and magazines to rural communities. She reported three free and thirty-five traveling libraries instituted during the year. The report of Mrs. Weil was followed by an interesting discussion which was terminated by adjournment for luncheon, which was served at 1 o'clock in the convention building.

The Afternoon Session.

Mrs. Annie Smith Ross, president of the North Carolina Library Association and librarian of the Carnegie Library at Charlotte, addressed the Federation on the wider aspects of library work in the State, the necessity for a State Library Commission and the need of co-operation on the part of all who are interested in the library movement.

The report of the board of directors was listened to with much interest, and its formal adoption created one new department to be known as the Literature Department, especially intended for the study clubs of the State. It also established the office of State Secretary for the General Federation of Women's Clubs. It also formally endorsed the movement to establish a "Mrs. Stonewall Jackson Scholarship" at Salem Academy and College, and authorized the appointment of a Federation Committee to co-operate with the committee which has begun the work and with the Daughters of the Confederacy. It seems particularly appropriate that the Federation of Women's Clubs in North Carolina should so heartily approve of the movement to honor one who is probably the best known and most dearly beloved woman in the State, and their attitude will lend additional warmth and enthusiasm to a movement which has already touched the hearts of many throughout the South.

The work of the Department of Education was brought to the attention of the Federation by the chairman, Mrs. F. L. Stevens, of Raleigh. The creation of sentiment for improved educational facilities and a study of present conditions is the chief concern of the department at present. This report provoked lively discussion and showed that the club woman is vitally interested in the educational progress of the State.

The city press is much indebted to the press committee of the Federation for the classification of the proceedings each day in such a manner as they are of much interest not only to club members but to the general public as well. This committee was appointed yesterday morning and consists of Mrs. F. L. Stevens, of Raleigh; Miss Petty, of Greensboro, and Miss Adelaide Fries, of Winston-Salem.

Trolley Party to Beach.

Immediately upon the adjournment of the afternoon session at 4 o'clock the large number of visitors in attendance upon the sessions, accompanied by many members of the local club, left from Princess street junction on a trolley party to Wrightsville Beach, the weather conditions being most ideal for an outing of the kind. A special car of the Consolidated Company was in waiting for the party, and the trip was a delightful one. Headquarters at the beach were at the handsome building of the Carolina Yacht Club, where light refreshments were served, and the visitors were entertained with strolls along the beach and observing the "grand Atlantic" on a typical Spring day. The party returned to the city in the evening much delighted with the outing.

Concert Last Evening.

The concert last evening was a delightful one in every respect, the ladies having enlisted the talent of some of Wilmington's most favorite vocalists and pianists in the programme of the affair. Several hundred attended the musicale and were charmed with it, the numbers being as follows:

Quartette—"The Two Roses" (Weiner), Mr. R. C. Banks, Mr. Greene Fenley, Mr. W. G. W. Krafft and Mr. A. S. Holden.

Piano Duet—"Bajadervenlano" (Rubenstein), Mrs. W. A. French, Jr. and Mrs. E. M. Gregg.

Vocal Solo—"Spring Song" (A. Becker), Miss King.

Piano Solo—(a) Pilgrim's Chorus—Tanhauser (Listz); (b) Nocturne, (Tschaichowsky), Mrs. J. M. Coin.

"Welcome Pretty Primrose" (Pinsuti), Mrs. J. H. Watters, Mrs. E. K. Bryan, Miss Waddell, Miss Watters, Mrs. Greene Fenley and Mrs. J. D. Smith.

Recitation—Selected, Miss Hattie Taylor.

Sextette—"Lucia di Lammermoor" (Brunner), Mrs. E. K. Bryan, Mrs. Greene Fenley, Mr. R. C. Banks, Mr. Greene Fenley, Mr. W. G. W. Krafft and Mr. A. S. Holden.

Piano Solo—"Water Nymph" (Nevin), Mrs. A. M. Waddell.

Quartette—"'Tis Morn" (Gilch), Mr. R. C. Banks, Mr. Greene Fenley, Mr. W. G. W. Krafft and Mr. Alex S. Holden.

A very handsome Stieff piano was kindly loaned to Sorosis for the musicale, a courtesy which the ladies greatly appreciated.

Programme for Today.

The convention will reassemble in the Masonic Temple ball room this morning at 10 o'clock and the Federation will hear further reports from departments, these including Publication, State Charities, Reciprocity, Child Study and Domestic Science. Report from the committee on revision of the constitution will also be had and action taken upon the same. New business will be taken up just before adjournment for luncheon in the building at 1:30 P. M. and in the afternoon the annual election of officers will be held with report of the committee on courtesies and a meeting of the new executive board. At 5 o'clock the ladies go for a trip down the historic Cape Fear on the steamer Wilmington as the special guests of Capt. Jno. W. Harper. At night the brilliant reception planned by Sorosis in the Masonic Temple ball room will conclude the social and business features of the Federation, which it has been a great pleasure for Wilmington to entertain.

WANTED! A NAME.

First Class Confectionery and Ice Cream Parlor on Princess treet.

Mr. D. L. T. Capps, a popular young Wilmingtonian, has rented one of the two handsome stores in the new Bear building on Princess street, next west of the Southern Bell Telephone Company's office, in this city, and about the tenth of May will open there a first class confectionery and fruit store, with one of the prettiest and most up-to-date ice cream parlors in the State. Mr. Capps has purchased the finest soda fountain ever brought to Wilmington, and a beautiful ice cream parlor set that will be installed at once, giving the city something new and strictly up-to-date. The front will be handsomely tiled, and all furniture and fixtures will be of the best that money can buy.

For his new and decidedly pretty establishment Mr. Capps desires a suitable name and has opened a popular contest for the most appropriate title suggested. He invites the ladies of the city to send him by mail to Postoffice Box 535 what they think will be a suitable name, and on May 5th a committee of five disinterested persons will decide upon the successful contestant, to whom will be presented a very handsome silk parasol with gold handle or a handsome bracelet as the winner may choose. The contest promises to be quite interesting, and suggestions should be mailed at once.

FUNERAL OF MR. W. K. BELL.

Will Be Buried With Pythian Honors This Afternoon—Services.

The funeral of the late Mr. William K. Bell will be conducted this afternoon at 4 o'clock from Fifth Street Methodist Church, thence to Bellevue Cemetery. Mr. Willie Bell, a son of Shreveport, La., is expected to arrive this morning, and Mr. Charles D. Bell, of Kansas City, is expected during the day. The funeral will be with Pythian honors, of which fraternity Mr. Bell was so long a consistent member. Elsewhere in today's paper will be found an official call for Stonewall Lodge No. 1 to assemble at Castle Hall for the purpose of attending the obsequies in a body. Members of sister lodges are also invited to attend.

Lumberton's Graded School.

Mr. Carl B. Cooper, the architect of this city, has been commissioned by the proper authorities at Lumberton, N. C., to draw plans for a handsome new two-story brick graded school building that will be erected there in the near future. The building will cost about $15,000, and will be thoroughly modern in every respect. The rooms are to be for ten grades and the building will be completed and ready for occupancy by September 1.

Dwelling Destroyed By Fire.

Mr. Alexander Johnson, who lives about six miles from the city on the Greenville Sound road had the misfortune to lose his dwelling and house furnishings by fire yesterday morning about 5 o'clock. The flames started in the kitchen and members of the family, who were asleep, had to escape only with what they wore. The loss is $500 with no insurance.

DETECTIVES PROTECT TILLMAN.

Exciting Time During His Lecture at Pittsburg.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Pittsburg, April 24.—As a precautionary measure, 22 detectives and a squad of uniformed policemen were stationed in the Carnegie Music Hall tonight during the address of Senator Ben Tillman, of South Carolina, who discussed the race problem before the Park Avenue Allegheny Athletic Clubs. Several exciting incidents occurred during the address, but no trouble occurred. There were but ten negroes in the audience, which filled the music hall to overflowing.

At the close of his address, in which he declared the races in the South were gradually becoming more opposed to one another, Senator Tillman called for a vote of the audience as to whether the negro was the equal of the white man. The entire audience excent the ten negroes voted in the negative by rising.

One man took exceptions to Tillman's remarks and made several interruptions. Tillman had him admit he came from Europe and then bitterly denounced Europeans in America who undertake to judge questions concerning this country. In speaking of whether the negro can be educated, Senator Tillman declared that Booker T. Washington was the harbor of refuge and safety to which people flee when other places fail and that Booker T. Washington was but one negro in ten million and was half white at that.

TWO CENT RATE IN GEORGIA.

Atlantic Coast Line and Other Roads Make Protect.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Atlanta, April 24.—The third hearing of the Georgia Railroad Commission of the petition of the Farmer's Union for a reduction of passenger rates to two cents a mile was concluded today. The session was occupied with the replies of several railroads to the arguments advanced by the petitioners. W. J. Craig, passenger traffic manager of the Atlantic Coast Line; W. A. Winburn, second vice president of the Central of Georgia, and S. H. Hardwick, passenger traffic manager of the Southern Railway, made statements, verbal or written, protesting against he proposed reducion of rates. Mr. Craig said that the average rate received by his line is 2.70 per mile for passenger traffic in the State; Mr. Winburn declared that the average received by the Central in 1906 was 2.45 1-2 cents a mile, and Mr. Hardwick said that a two-cent rate in Georgia would mean to the Southern Railroad an actual loss of money. The commission took the petition under consideration.

FOURTH VICTIM IS DEAD.

Negro at Danville Suspected of Wholesale Poisoning.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Danville, Va., April 24.—Lillie McClain, the fourth victim of the tragedy enacted in the servants' room of Rev. W. H. Atwill, a Methodist presiding elder, when three negroes were found dead and another unconscious, died at the general hospital tonight without regaining consciousness. The coroner's jury will investigate tomorrow when it is thought that the physicians who performed an autopsy on one of the negroes will submit a report that death was due to poisoning. George Moore, husband of one of the negroes, cannot be located. He is suspected of being implicated in the affair.

AERIAL TELEGRAPHY.

First Attempted by Amontons in the Fifteenth Century.

One of the first systems of aerial telegraphy was attempted in the fifteenth century. The originator was Amontons, at that time considered one of the cleverest scientists of the world. Yet you never hear the name nowadays in connection with that of Morse or Bell. However, Amontons developed a system of signal telegraphy so that a message could be sent from Paris to Rome in three hours. Those who assisted in the transmission of the message along the line were unable to tell the nature of the message.

Posts were placed from Paris across the Alps at consecutive points, where men were stationed with telescopes. Different signals, representing combinations of letters, were run up at each post. The man at the other end, seeing the signal, placed a similar one before his post, and so the message was carried to its destination.

The key to the signal was known only to those who sent the messages in Paris and to the recipients a thousand miles away. Amontons was not encouraged in his work by the puffy, gouty functionaries of the time and discontinued his efforts.—Philadelphia North American.

THE COTTAGE.

It Should Be Without Sham Elegance and Elaboration.

There are cottages and cottages. Any modest, unpretentious house designed on strictly economical lines may be fitly called a cottage, and it is more satisfactory to regard one's own simple little abode as a well built, commodious cottage than as a small house of comparatively cheap construction and cramped dimensions. It is when given to the big swaggering seaside houses of the rich that the term "cottage" becomes a misnomer and an affectation. To the man of moderate means the very idea of building a cottage rather than a house carries with it a sense of making a home within his means free from vain striving for a sham elegance and elaboration. The cottage which apes the mansion is as absurd as the affected and exaggerated dignity of the pompous and undersized individual who seeks to create an impression out of all proportion to his real importance.

Since simplicity is one of the main attributes of a well designed cottage, its charm and effectiveness must depend upon the quiet excellence of its proportion and the harmonious and unobtrusive quality of its coloring in relation to its surroundings.—Robert C. Spencer in House Beautiful.

MISLED BY PARROTS.

How Columbus Missed the Honor of Discovering This Continent.

A flight of birds, coupled with a sailor's superstition, robbed Columbus of the honor of discovering the continent. When Columbus sailed westward over the unknown Atlantic, he expected to reach Zipangu (Japan). After several days' sail from Gomera, one of the Canary islands, he became uneasy at not discovering Zipangu, which, according to his reckonings, should have been 216 nautical miles more to the east.

After a long discussion he yielded to the opinion of Martin Alonzo Pinzon, the commander of the Pinta, and steered to the southwest. Pinzon was guided in his opinion solely by a flight of parrots which took wing in that direction. It was good luck to follow in the wake of a flock of birds when engaged upon a voyage of discovery, according to widespread superstition among Spanish seamen of that day.

If Columbus had kept to his course, he would have entered the gulf stream, have reached Florida and then probably have been carried to Cape Hatteras and Virginia.

TRAVERS & CO.

[Copyright, 1906, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

The mercantile house of Travers & Co., New York, had a branch in Paris for twenty years, when Travers himself, after looking over old accounts, noticed something wrong.

The next steamer sailing for Havre carried with her Thomas Agnew, the firm's bookkeeper. He was provided with all proper credentials, and his instructions were to give the Paris books a thorough overhauling. He was to interview the head of the French firm first. This he did soon after reaching Paris.

"I hardly expected you, but I am glad that you are here," was his greeting. "It is true that the business has fallen off, and it has been a source of anxiety to me. We seem to be doing as much as ever, but the sales show less and less. I cannot suspect any of the employees. The bookkeeper is the only one who could juggle the figures, and he is probity itself. He has been with us for ten years past and is as steady as a church. I might as well suspect myself."

"Nevertheless, if there is anything wrong it must be in his department," suggested Agnew.

There were two or three interviews, and then it was suggested that Dubois, which was the name of the bookkeeper, be given leave of absence for a couple of weeks. He refused to take it. Then Agnew cabled for instructions and was told to go ahead. He was taken to the office and introduced and his errand stated. To his agreeable disappointment Dubois gave him a cordial welcome and offered every assistance in his power. He would be only too glad to have his books looked over and verified. His frankness and eagerness were a setback to Agnew, but a day was appointed for the commencement of the work. No man could have set out to render himself more agreeable than the French bookkeeper did. He first invited Agnew to his home to dinner. It was a modest little cottage, plainly furnished and evidently economically managed. There were a wife and two children, and the family appeared to be happy and contented.

Agnew had made up his mind that Dubois was certainly living on his income and was a man of steady habits when his wife happened to mention during the momentary absence of the husband that she would be entirely happy if Claude did not have to remain at the office so late three or four nights in the week. As a matter of fact, the office always closed at 5:30 p. m., and Agnew was made uneasy by the remarks. Dubois made arrangements to show the American certain sights the next evening, and they were together for several hours. At a cafe where they stopped for a last drink Agnew, who had taken very little during the evening and who called for a mild glass on this occasion, suddenly found the room whirling round and round with him and finally pitched forward on the floor and became unconscious. When he came to some time during the next day he was ill and found that he had been robbed and was clothed in the garb of a workingman. He was also a prisoner in a cellar so dark that he could not see across it. There were a pitcher of water and a loaf of bread beside him. He drank of the water and slept for hours.

When he awoke again the effects of the drug were gone, and he explored his prison, to discover that it had only one small window, and that looked out on a back yard and was heavily barred. There had been stairs leading up to a door, but they had been removed. No sounds reached him from above, and the noises from the street were muffled.

An hour later a man thrust a ladder down and brought more bread and water. He was armed with a knife and refused to answer any questions. The American coaxed, threatened and tried to bribe, but the man was firm. Three times a day for the next ten days he brought bread and water, but never anything else. Then one evening he left the ladder behind him when he ascended, as if by an oversight, and after waiting for an hour Agnew crept up to find the door open. He had no trouble in leaving the house, which was without tenants and situated in a slum street. The man hadn't a penny in money, and his suit was old and ragged. When he accosted a gendarme he was ordered to move on. He moved on and told his story again and again and at length was arrested and locked up. In the morning the police judge was about to commit Agnew as a vagrant when he asked that the head of the firm be sent for. This was done, and of course the prisoner was soon at liberty. He could not guide the police to the street where he had been held prisoner, but a visit to the home of Dubois explained everything. He had abandoned his family eight days previously. In a day or two it was shown that for five years he had maintained three separate establishments, and in two of them he had passed for a single man. Instead of being a man of steady habits, he was a regular rounder. Instead of being a man of probity, a brief examination of his books showed that he had stolen $30,000 from the firm in six years. Had an expert been put on his books at any time his frauds must have been discovered in half a day.

It took the police a couple of weeks to secure a clew, but the embezzler was finally followed to South Africa and up the country to the diamond mines. When arrested he was all bravado, but three days later he committed suicide under the officer's nose, and the case against him was closed.

Notice of Election

FOR THE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN OF THE CITY OF WILMINGTON AND FOR BONDS FOR STREET IMPROVEMENT AND WATER AND SEWERAGE.

The Board of Aldermen of the City of Wilmington, North Carolina, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter, entitled Towns, subdivision 7, of the Revisal of North Carolina of 1905, and in accordance with the provisions of an act of the General Assembly of North Carolina passed at its 1907 session, entitled "An Act to Allow the City of Wilmington, North Carolina, to Issue Bonds for Street Improvement," and in accordance with the provisions of another act passed at the 1907 session of the General Assembly of North Carolina, entitled "An Act to Allow the City of Wilmington to Issue Bonds for Water and Sewerage"; and by virtue of the powers therein given, do hereby call an election to be held by the qualified voters of the City of Wilmington on the 7th day of May, 1907, between the hours of eight o'clock and sunset of said day, for the election of two Aldermen from each of the five wards thereof; and also to determine whether the City of Wilmington shall issue bonds for Street Improvement, to the amount of four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000) and the levy and collection of the tax for the payment of said bonds and coupons; and further to determine whether the said City of Wilmington shall issue bonds for Water and Sewerage to the amount of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) and the levy and collection of the tax for the payment of such bonds and coupons.

At said election all qualified voters of the City of Wilmington shall vote a ballot of white paper, three inches long and two inches wide, upon which shall be written or printed the names of two electors from each of the five wards of the City of Wilmington to be voted for as members of the Board of Aldermen of said city. And all qualified voters who favor the issuance of bonds to the amount of four hundred thousand dollars $(400,000) for Street Improvement, and the levy and collection of the tax for the payment of said bonds and coupons, shall vote a ballot of white paper, three inches long and two inches wide, with "For Street Improvement" written or printed thereon; and all qualified voters opposed thereto shall vote a ballot of similar size with "Against Street Improvement" written or printed thereon.

And all qualified voters who are in favor of the issuance of bonds to the amount of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) for Water and Sewerage, and the levy and collection of the tax for the payment of said bonds and coupons, shall vote a ballot of white paper, three inches long and two inches wide, with "For Water and Sewerage" written or printed thereon, and all qualified voters opposed thereto shall vote a similar ballot with "Against Water and Sewerage" written or printed thereon.

For the purpose of the elections as authorized by said Chapter entitled "Towns" of the Revisal of 1905 of North Carolina, and as authorized by the Acts aforesaid, no new Registration of the Electors for said elections shall be required, but the Registrars hereinafter named shall revise the registration books of their wards in such manner that said books shall show an accurate list of all electors previously registered in their wards and still residing therein, without requiring said electors to register anew.

And the following are designated as the polling places in the several wards in the City of Wilmington, and the persons hereinafter named are appointed as Registrars and Judges of Election in the said wards, to-wit:

First Ward, polling place—Hose Reel House, Fourth Street Bridge: Registrar—Isaiah West; Judges of Election—W. H. Coleman and C. O. Knox.

—At Charlotte on Tuesday Bishop Cheshire dedicated the new addition to St. Peters' Hospital, an institution which is now a credit to Charlotte.

—Masons are now at work on the foundations of the new Chatham woolen mills, to be erected at Winston-Salem.

—The Democratic primary in Greensboro on Tuesday resulted in no choice for mayor, the vote being Brandt 500, Murphy 400, Stafford 200. Brandt and Murphy will run the race over next Tuesday.

—Rev. J. C. Massee pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church, at Raleigh, accompanied by Mr. N. B. Broughton, superintendent of the Sunday school, left on Tuesday for a trip to Rome and other European cities

—High Point, April 23: A census now being taken here and which is about complete will show that High Point has 15,000 inhabitants, a doubling up in five years and a gain of ten thousand in six years.

—Walter Best, a negro 18 years old, has been committed to jail at Windsor for killing a negro named Hardy at a school entertainment near Roxabel, Bertie county. In a general pistol shooting at the school house about 15 shots were fired by negroes who went there carrying pistols.

—Raleigh News and Observer, April 24: There are now 1,1960 rural free delivery mail carriers in North Carolina, and of these there are 29 in Wake county, seven goig out from Raleigh. All the rural carriers in the State ae paid from the Raleigh postoffice, and these received for the last quarter $206,830, the total disbursemet in the office here for the quarter being $215,297.82.

—Tarboro Southerner: It is reported that John Lineberger, who on Sunday morning, 14th inst., was found dead below the East Carolina trestle, was angrily charged by a man with being too intimate with his wife, just before he is supposed to have been killed. This report has not yet been verified, but the police very probably will ascertain if there is any foundation for it.

—Charlotte, April 23: Last Sabbath evening Gov. M. F. Ansel, of South Carolina, delivered a fine address in the Tenth Avenue Presbyterian church. His subject was, "Responsibility." In introducing the speaker to the large audience, the pastor, Rev. A. R. Shaw, said in part: "North Carolina is proud of Governor Glenn. North Carolina is also proud of Governor Ansel These gentlemen are Elders in the Presbyterian Church. It is an inspiration to see such men laying the tribute of their hearts at the feet of Jesus."

—Raleigh News and Observer, April 24: Congressman W. W. Kitchin, of Roxboro was here yesterday, and in the afternoon left for Clarkton in Bladen county, where today he delivers the closing address at the Clarkton High School. He has accepted invitations to make several speeches during the next month. He is to speak at Kinston at the big Masonic event on the first of May. Mr. Kitchin is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor for the term to succeed Governor Glenn, but while here declined to say anything on the subject of politics, smilingly declining to be interviewed on that subject at this time.

—Wadesboro, N. C., April 23: One of the most pitiable sights that was ever seen in Wadesboro was witnessed today in the silk mill neighborhood in the family of Mr. Hugh Jordan. The whole family, consisting of ten, were seriously stricken with ptomaine poison. They had been eating some canned goods, and it is thought that the poison came from them. THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, April 24.—The cotton market was a little more active today, and after some early irregularity ruled steady to firm, with the close steady at a net advance of 4 to 9 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 175,000 bales. The opening was steady at a decline of 1 to 4 points, and prices showed a net loss of 3 to 5 points shortly after the call under scattering liquidation and selling for a turn, which was encouraged by slightly disappointing cables and a decidedly better weather map. But the Houston estimate for tomorrow was light, the higher temperatures shown by the day's map were followed by a prediction for colder weather in the western belt tomorrow, and the market steadied up before midday to a net advance of about 2 to 5. This was followed by a set-back of 3 or 4 points, owing to the eastern belt forecast calling for clear and warmer weather, but sellers were rendered uneasy by the relative firmness of the near months, and in the late trading the market ruled quite firm, reaching the highest point of the session and selling just about the high figures of last Saturday on reports that May enders would be promply stopped next Friday. The close was within a point or two of the best. Port receipts for the day were under estimates, and were slightly exceeded by the exports, which now total about 7,600,000 bales, so far, for the season, againts 5,527,000 for the corresponding period last year. Southern spot markets were generally steady and unchanged.

Receipts at the ports today, 9,743 bales, against 20,344 last week, and 11,556 last year. For the week, estimated, 75,000 bales, against 83,196 last week, and 84,544 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 3,056 bales, against 4,223 last year, and at ouston, 2,530 bales, against 1,393 last year.

'PUSHED to the FRONT

Yes, that is what has pushed Belle of Virginia out in the front rank of good whiskies—the fact that it is founded on quality. We ask you to try it the very next time you feel the need of a good drink of whiskey. It is blended from pure, carefully aged whiskies—the best blend our years' of experience has taught us—a whiskey which will appeal to you from the first taste and grow upon you as the days go by. Don't forget to ask for it and try it.

Sold at the places where gentlemen go to get a drink.

EVERY SPINDLE IS BUSY

Activity and Prosperity is World-Wide and Demand for Cotton Goods Unprecedented—Great Increase of Manufacturing.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Boston, April 23.—The 82nd annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers opened in Huntington Hall, Massachusetts Institue of Technology, today. Many important papers on the cotton industry have been prepared and for the chief social event of the gathering a banquet was arranged for the evening at the Hotel Brunswick.

The first session was called to order by President James R. MacColl, of Providence, R. I. President McColl's address followed and among the other speakers were Everett W. Burdett, of this city, who spoke on "Corporations and the Public Welfare"; Harvey Stuart Chase, Boston, on "The Cost of Maintenance and Depreciation in Cotton Mills," and Henry K. Rowell, also of this city, whose topic was "Taxation and Valuation with Reference to Industrial Plants."

In his address President McColl said:

"I am glad to congratulate you upon the continued activity and prosperity of our industry. This condition seems to be world-wide. There is adequate consumption or at least demand to employ every spindle and loom. A year ago we recorded England's increase of 6,250,000 spindles. The latest reports show 10,000,000 spindles added or projected within five years, which equals the growth of the previous thirty years. In our own country there has been a normal addition of spindles; imports of cotton manufactures have increased during 1906, as compared with 1905, $14,500,000, or 25 per cent.; exports have diminished $13,500,000, or 24 per cent.; yet there is no evidence of over-supply or glutted markets. Extension of foreign trade is for the moment ignored, on account of the home demand absorbing all the output.

"Everything that enters into the cost of production is getting on to an excessively high level. It is hardly to be expected that the present tariff can prevent large importations of foreign goods unless we can maintain our lead in the use of labor-saving methods and devices. But the fact is that our foreign competitors are keenly alive to the situation and are rapidly adoping American improvements and there are already many mills abroad that are fully equipped with every American device. As soon, therefore, as there is a reaction abroad we may expect a reaction here."

President MacColl discussing cotton exchanges, said that in his opinion the time had come when a cotton exchange should be established in New England, where two-thirds of the spindles of the country are located. "With their excellent port and railroad facilities," he said, "either Boston or Providence should grasp the opportunity that is presented. With regular steamer communication between Southern and New England ports carrying cotton one way and taking back New England manufacturers, and the existence here of a great central reservoir of the raw material, in my judgment, there would be an important economy in money and time."

Samuel T. Hubbard, of New York, discussed "the New York Cotton Exchange and its contract for delivery of cotton." He said in part:

"Our market is usually described as not a cotton market. It is well to note that last season we sold more spot cotton to exporters and spinnners than any market except New Orleans, Savannah, Houston and Memphis. We have become the great clearing house of the world, our transactions represent cotton in Bombay and Alexandria, as well as in Bremen, Liverpool and the South. It is the highest development of commerce that such a clearing house exists and that contracts are carried out to the letter."

Among the other speakers were G. A. Gordon, of Savannah, and Miss Harriet Newell Wardle, of Philadelphia.

KILLING OF YOUNG ESTES.

Friends Deny Accuracy of Accounts of Virginia Tragedy.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Danville, Va., April 24.—A statement has been sent out to various newspapers signed by John H. Shipman, of Livingston, Nelson County, Va., on behalf of young Theodore Estes, who was killed Monday afternoon by Judge W. G. Loving protesting against the accounts of the tragedy and other publications which he says are inaccurate. He declares that the statement that the daughter of Judge Loving was drugged and assaulted by young Estes is false, and furthermore that Judge Loving in his statement before the bail commissioner did not make such an allegation. On the morning after the buggy ride taken by Miss Loving and Estes, he says the latter called at the home of County Clerk E. L. Kidd to take her home, but she was unable to go on account of indisposition.

Shipman is acting in behalf of the friends and relatives of young Estes, who are apparently determined to sift the affair to the bottom. He claims that the only provocation Judge Loving had was that Miss Loving had become intoxicated from a drink of whiskey given her by young Estes.

NO MISSIONARY OF ROOSEVELT

First Assistant Postmaster General Hitchcock Has Returned From Southern Trip.

EVERYBODY FOR ROOSEVELT

Met Few Grouchy Republicans in Dixie—They Are Glued to the Administration Band Wagon. Discredited Men Few.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, April 24.—First Assistant Postmaster General Hitchcock returned to Washington today from the South, where he has been for the past week primarily on an inspection tour of Southern postoffices. Mr. Hitchcock said he had learned only today that his trip had been given a political significance in newspapers in the North, in which the statement appeared that he was on a mission for the President to ascertain first-hand regarding any new disaffection in the Republican sentiment of the South.

Mr. Hitchcock denied with emphasis that the President had directed his movements. "It is true," he continued, "that while my trip was primarily one of inspection, and one which I had planned months ago, I discussed politics to some extent. This was only natural, as I was called on by many Southern Republicans officially connected with the government otherwise interested.

"I saw no evidence to justify published reports of disaffection in the ranks of some of the Republicans in the South—such as organization of the opposing movements and that sort of thing, which we have been hearing about for some time.

"In those States which I visited—South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida—the Republicans are in hearty accord with the administration. They are Roosevelt men through and through."

Referring again to the question of opposing organizations, Mr. Hichcock remarked that, of course, there were "a few disgruntled and generally discredited men," who have dropped out of the old organizations, but that such were in the decided minority. Further details of his observation, Mr. Hitchcock refused to give, except to say a few words of praise of the workings of his Department in the sections visited.

TRAIN RACED WITH BARN.

Wind Sent Latter Crashing Into Caboose, Demolishing It.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Lexington, Ky., April 24.—Engineer Scannon, of a Chesapeake and Ohio freight train, was the hero yesterday of a thrilling race between a train and a barn, with several lives at stake. Scannon's train was passing Tebb's Station, near here, at a good rate, when the high winds which were blowing lifted a big tobacco barn from its foundation and started it rolling down hill toward the railroad half a mile away Shannon saw the danger and immediately threw the throttle wide open in an effort to outrun the barn. The heavy train was on the down grade, and soon atained great momentum, but just as it looked as though the peril would be outrun, the big barn crashed into the caboose, smashing it. The impact also shattered the barn, which collpased on the track. Train men on the caboose saw their peril in time to escape by jumping.

WARM WIRELETS.

The Jamestown Exposition, though in an incomplete condition, will be formally opened by President Roosevelt tomorrow. Various State Governors and delegations left yesterday for Jamestown.

The chief of the political prison at Odessa, Russia, was killed yesterday by four terrorists, whose indignation he had provoked by alleged atrocities upon prisoners. One of the terrorists committed suicide, another was captured and two managed to make their escape.

Three young women employed at T. C. Wheaton & Co.'s glass factory in Millville, N. J., were killed yesterday by the collapse of a smoke stack which crashed through a room in which they were working. The accident occurred during a wind storm, the velocity of which was estimated at sixty miles an hour.

Mr. John T. Parham, aged 65 years, a gallant Confederate soldier, who was color guard for his regiment in Pickett's famous charge at Gettysburg, committed suicide at Petersburg, Va., yesterday morning, by shooting himself in the head with a Colt's revolver. He lingered two hours after the shooting before death occurred. He had been despondent for some time past.

Wolfram C. Fuchs, an expert in the use of the X-ray, died in Chicago yesterday of cancer, which he contracted three years ago through coming in contact with the X-ray apparatus. Since Dr. Fuchs became affected with cancer he has submitted to a number ofoperations, several of his fingers having been amputated. These operations were unsuccessful and the disease steadily spread to different parts of his body.

MURDERED LOVER KILLED HERSELF

TELEPHONED FOR VICTIM

Shot Him and Herself in Physician's Office—Young Man Was to Have Wed Another Girl Last Night.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Old City, Pa., April 24.—Thaddeus S. Ross, 25 years of age, a clerk in the postoffice here, was shot and instantly killed today by Miss Isabel Stroup, 28 years old, a former sweetheart, who immediately shot herself through the heart. Both victims of the tragedy were of prominent families in this part of the State. The shooting occurred in the office of Dr. George W. Magee, where Miss Stroup had called Ross by telephone while he was dining at his home. Dr. Magee was absent from his office when the shooting occurred, and knew nothing of the tragedy until he returned and the two bodies partly prevented the office door being opened. Miss Stroup was employed in a hospital in Bradford, Pa., and arrived here at noon. She went directly to the physician's office from which place she called Ross.

Three shots were fired at Ross, two lodged in the forehead and one in the heart. Ross was to have been married tonight to Miss Drusilla Sampsell, of this place.

There were no witnesses to the shooting. Ross was dining at home with his family, discussing the coming marriage cercmony, when the telephone rang. His father answered the call and a woman's voice made inquiry for "Thad." Mr. Ross called his son and the young man, after answering, picked up his hat and informed the family he had to go to the doctor's office for a few minutes, but would return as soon as he could. This was the last time his parents saw him alive. What took place in the office no one will ever know. It could not be ascertained from persons who were in the building at the time that any loud talking took place between them or that they had a quarrel. When Dr. Magee returned from lunch and opened the door he found the dead bodies. In a chair in a corner of the office sat Ross, his head lying back on the chair and blood streaming from a bullet wound in his neck. His forehead was burned with powder where a bullet entered his brain. Another ball had pierced his heart. Miss Stroup was lying a few feet away, face downward, where her body partly blocked the office door. Blood was flowing from a wound in her left side. Ross had seated himself in a large chair, and apparently while talking to the girl had placed both hands in his trousers pockets. The girl wore long black kid gloves, but before doing the shooting had slipped both her hands from the gloves and they hung loose from her wrists. It is thought she walked over to the chair in which Ross was seated, and shielding the 32-calibre revolver with her dress, fired the first shot at his heart. Wishing to make sure of her work the girl fired two more shots. Standing over her victim she then shot herself. The revolver dropped from her hands and was found near her body.

Miss Stroup was born in this county 28 years ago. Both her parents are dead and she is survived by one sister and two brothers who live at Coal Hill. Ross was 35 years of age. He was employed in the postoffice here. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American war and later served in the Philippines.
